– Automation engineer, ABB Group

Work at the speed of mind

Capture, process and organize ideas and information the way your brain was designed to—fast & dynamically—so you don't lose a single brilliant insight or critical detail.

- Quickly break main concepts into smaller ones, while keeping connections simple and clear.
- Add detail and context to tasks as you create them, without stepping out of the flow.
- Rearrange or replicate information with simple drag & drop.

Seal your communication cracks

Consolidate all the information related to a project, plan or concept into one central, shared communication that keeps you and your team on task, on time and on the same page.

- Transparently show ownership, priorities, deadlines and more.
- Visually connect related action items, to eliminate redundancy and encourage collaboration.
- View projects by resource, tasks, timeline, in Gantt charts and more for visibility into progress, status, red flags and risks.

See your world in a single glance

Integrate data from people, places and platforms into a unified dashboard in which everything is accounted for and makes sense, so it all gets done.

- Sync related data from Microsoft Office files, content repositories and over 800 apps.
- Add, correlate and view files, links, media and more, for consolidated control over your day, work and world.
- Fluidly change the information you're seeing or showing, without switching windows or splitting screens.
